Emily Watts has a charity event for her sorority today, she did not think of a ride to it in advance. She is panicking because if she does not attend it she will be dropped.

Emily remembers of the new College Carpool app, which allows college kids to safely carpool with each other through a seamless interface.

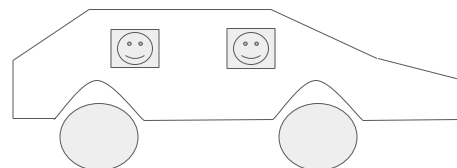

First, Emily enters her starting point (Granby Mills), and her destination (Goodwill). This will allow her to find people who are possibly from the same area as her, and people that are going to the same destination.

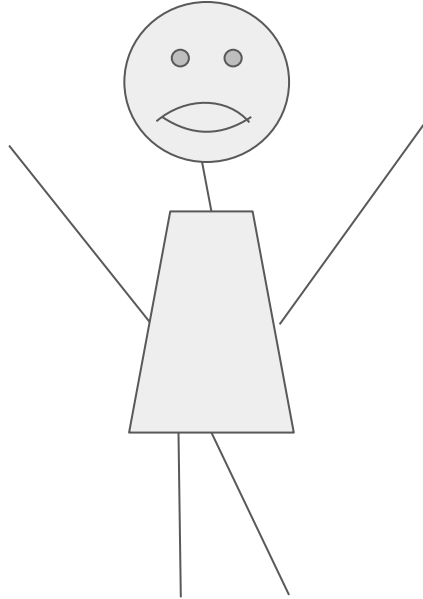

Next, Emily only feels comfortable riding with her sisters in her sorority. So she uses the filter to adjust to only members of AXO.

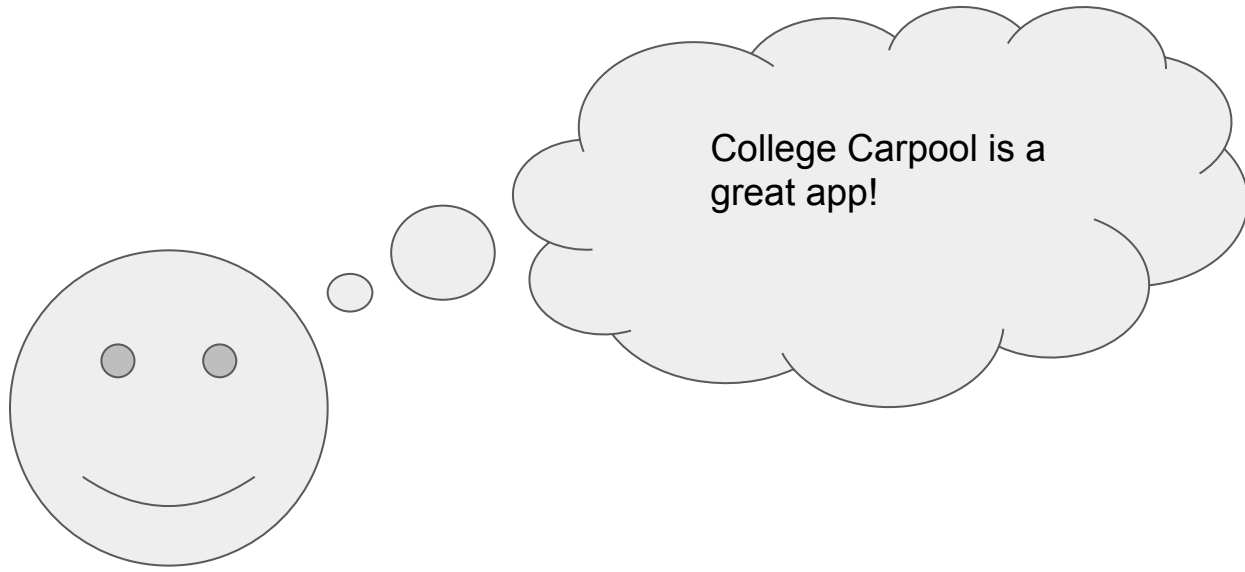

Emily sees potential people who could drive her and chooses someone to message. She chooses Jennifer and asks her for a ride.

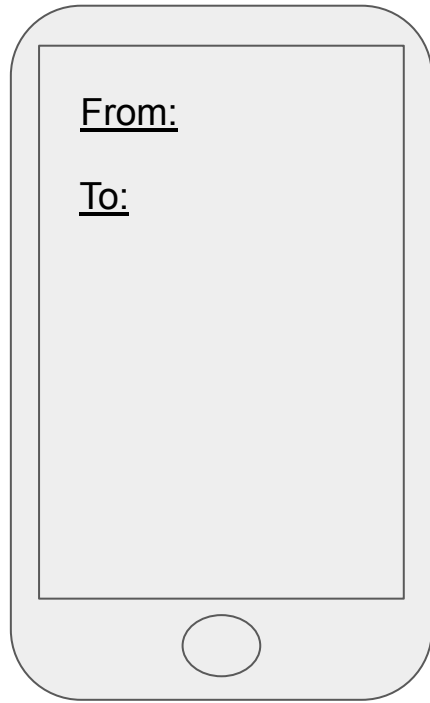

Jennifer picks up Emily and they go to the charity event together.

Jared needs to go to lacrosse practice across campus, but he does not have a ride.

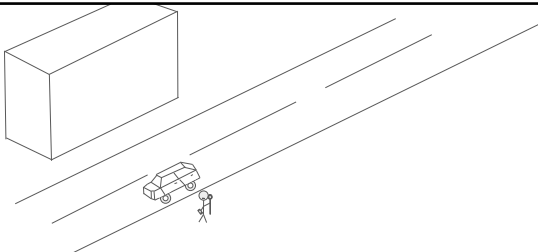

Jared downloads the app "College Carpool" on his phone free of charge.

Jared is now able to see available drivers in his area that are heading in the same direction as his lacrosse practice.

Jared is also able to see drivers rating and profile with a click of a button when he makes his selection.

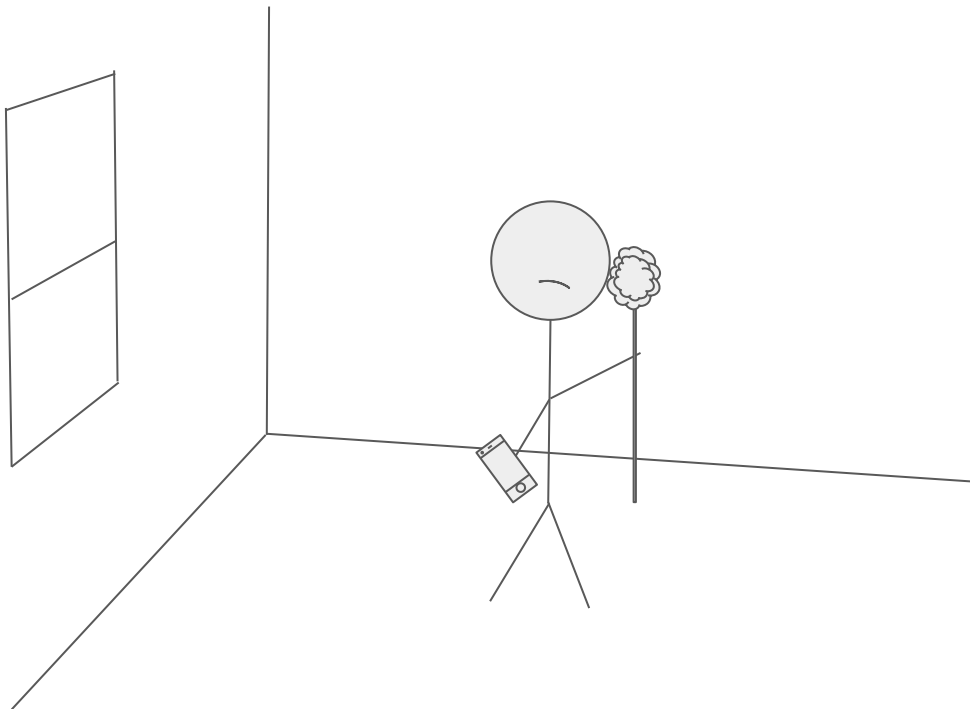

His carpool arrives quickly and he is taken to his destination.

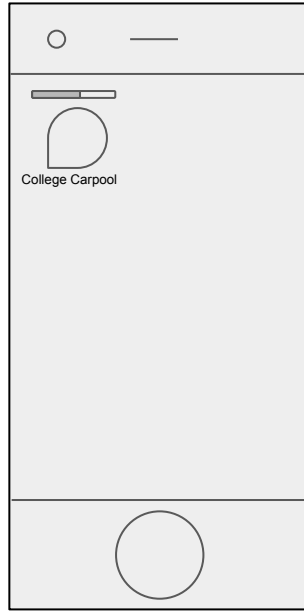

After he arrives, Jared is able to rate his driver and leave feedback on the app.

Kevin's College carpool storyboard

Miranda needs a ride from five points. But most ubers and lyfts are full and the only ones available are over $20 per ride. It was also on the news someone was held hostage in a recent uber so Miranda is kindda sketch about ubers and lyfts at the moment.

She downloads an app
that her friend
recommended called college carpool. Which can connect her with local college kids
drivers.

She opens the app creates a profile. And chooses certain chat
rooms to join.
Understanding that she
needs to get back to her apartment complex she enters the reign living chat.

Miranda can click on her profile with an image of the girl. With a bio about her and what car she drives. Most importantly she is a verified user because all users need to put their UofSC carolina card on their profile. Miranda can see that she is a student, her major, and other organizations she's in. Conveniently it also shows she's in Miranda's roommates same sorority.

Miranda knowing the a driver is for sure a USC driver she confidently and free of fear gets her ride back. The driver also going to the same location tells Miranda the ride is free so she doesnt have to worry about $20 ubers. Miranda and the driver talks all throughout the ride especially since Miranda brought up that her roommate was in the same sorority since she saw in her profile. They exchange numbers and Miranda is now safely home and made a new friend.
